

CHILDREN'S ORTHOPAEDIC & SCOLIOSIS SURGERY ASSOCIATES

Specialties: Pediatric & Adolescent Orthopaedics and Spinal Deformity Surgery

Children's Orthopaedic and Scoliosis Surgery Associates, L.L.P. (COSSA), specializing in pediatric and adolescent orthopaedic surgery, is the largest practice of pediatric orthopaedics in West Central Florida. We are extremely proud that Jeffrey B. Neustadt, M.D., Scott W. Beck, M.D., and Gregory V. Hahn, M.D. have been selected for membership in the prestigious "Best Doctors in America 2010" listing again. In addition, Neustadt, Beck, and Hahn are all fellows of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons and the Pediatric Orthopaedic Society of North America. They maintain Board Certification with the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgeons. They all hold affiliate faculty appointments with the University of South Florida, College of Medicine's Department of Orthopaedic Surgery and Sports Medicine where they direct the pediatric orthopaedic education of the orthopaedic surgical residents as well as the pediatric medical residents and medical students of USF.

Long known for their expertise in treating children's fractures – receiving referrals from general orthopaedic surgeons throughout their referral area – the orthopaedic surgeons of COSSA have each developed subspecialty expertise in several areas of pediatric orthopaedics. Drs. Jeff Neustadt and Greg Hahn have the largest practice of spinal deformity surgery on Florida's west coast and are active in the Scoliosis Research Society. Dr. Scott Beck has received special training in the use of the Fassier-Duval rod system for the treatment of children with long bone deformities due to osteogenesis imperfecta. All of COSSA's surgeons evaluate and treat congenital and developmental orthopaedic conditions affecting the hip, feet, knees, and upper and lower extremities on a daily basis.

In September of 2009, Tracy J Roberts, M.D. joined the COSSA team. September 2010, Drew E. Warnick, M.D., who specializes in pediatric sports medicine and is the first fellowship trained pediatric sports medicine orthopaedist in the Tampa Bay area, will be starting. COSSA's offices are located in St. Petersburg and Tampa, with a satellite clinic in Sarasota and Brandon. For more information www.chortho.com.
